Crossing Blanche Terrace

FOLLOWING Pete and Pat Kraak's letter (YPCT Your View 29-1-25), I'd like to follow that up by saying I have contacted both Copper Coast Council and a local councillor regarding a pedestrian refuge of Blanche Terrace, Moonta.

On the south-eastern side of the road are the McCauley units, the senior citizens clubrooms, the Vietnam veterans' clubrooms, the community activity shed, the croquet club, the bowling club, the gem and mineral club, the visitor information centre, plus the walking trail and the Moonta Mines heritage attractions, as well as the residents of Moonta Mines.

There are aged people using mobility scooters, walkers and walking sticks constantly trying to cross Blanche Terrace; during harvest, this is nigh on impossible if the pedestrian is slow.

A refuge such as in Gawler's main street is badly needed.

I hope council and the Narungga MP Fraser Ellis take this on board and apply for one to be installed.

OVER the new year period all my visitors in Edithburgh had no mobile phone reception.

So, at the busiest time of the year, Yorke Peninsula Council wanted everyone to use a useless app to pay for accessing the boat ramp. Debbie Tuit

Colour change

I READ on Facebook that the prominent colour of the Wallaroo Primary School emblem was being changed, and the lettering around the emblem's anchor was also being changed.

This anchor, with its writing on the green, is a legacy that has been a part of our school's identity for generations. It is heritage worthy!

The current wording "Acknowledging Our Past, Building Our Future" is timeless.

There are many people living in Wallaroo, some who have had up to seven generations of family members attend this school, who are proud of the green.

If it is changed in any way, the historical value of our school would have been diminished.

"I went to the Port Hughes boat ramp between Christmas and New Years and, due to such poor phone and internet reception, I was unable to pay on the app or call for payment. What would you do in that scenario moving forward?" - Tim Andrews

"In the meantime, since 2019 all public

Inquiry's next chapter

THIS Friday, February 7, marks an important deadline for the region, as submissions to the parliamentary inquiry into health services on Yorke Peninsula close.

Since the inquiry began in November, we've reported on YP residents who have made submissions and encouraged others to do so.

Among those leading the charge was former health sector worker Sue Bussenschutt, of Wallaroo.

She said she was making a submission not just for herself but for her children and grandchildren who live locally.

Ms Bussenschutt urged residents to help illustrate how staffing shortages, funding gaps and lack of equipment affected health services in the region.

Also featured was Maurice Saint, of Parsons Beach, who has been working to establish a local health foundation.

Mr Saint said he aimed to highlight these concerns in his submission to the inquiry, including the burden on southern YP residents who are often forced to travel long distances - sometimes multiple times a week — for medical appointments.

The region's ageing population also highlights the need for improved healthcare services.

In the YP and Barunga West council areas, the median age is 57, while in the Copper Coast Council area it is 54 - significantly higher than the state median of 41 and the national median of 38.

The percentage of people in these three council areas with three or more longterm health conditions ranges from 6.1 to 6.8 per cent, compared with 3.8 per cent for South Australia overall and three per cent nationally.

Submissions to the inquiry will be reviewed by State Parliament's Economic and Finance Committee.

We hope the committee will visit the region to hear firsthand why local health services must be improved for locals and the many people who visit our region now and into the future.

Bourke standing strong for state

Joanna Tucker JOURNALIST

EMILY Bourke, previously of Pine Point, has joined the State Cabinet as Minister for Autism, Minster for Emergency Services and Correctional Services, and Minster for Recreation, Sport and Racing.

Ms Bourke, who was promoted following last week's cabinet reshuffle, says her country upbringing has served her well.

"The values (learned) growing up on Yorke Peninsula and living on a farm have been of use throughout my whole political career," Ms Bourke said.

"Growing up in the country, you realise everyone is people focused and community focused, and that is exactly what these (ministerial) roles are.

"They are all about protecting our community, keeping our community safe and giving that sense of belonging."

She said growing up on a farm gave her one of the best childhood experiences.

"You have the freedom to ride bikes, have fun, and get to know your neighbours and community," Ms Bourke said.

"You also learn that nothing happens without a strong community.

"Volunteers come together, help each other out, build playgrounds, and coach - everyone supports each other, especially in times of need."

Before entering politics, Ms Bourke worked at the YP Country Times for three years.

"I talk about the Country Times a lot in my job because that's where I learned the incredible power of storytelling — bringing complete strangers together to share a story," she said.

"That story is so important to the individual, and by sharing it, you can change a lot of people's minds."

Ms Bourke said her new ministerial roles overlapped to some extent.

"Both emergency services and sport are all about that sense of belonging, and that is something I am really passionate about," she said.

When you feel like you belong to something, you are part of something bigger than yourself.

"And that sense of belonging flips over into the autism portfolio as well."

Focus on autism

Before last week, Ms Bourke had been looking at issues in corrections as part of her previous role as Assistant Minister for Autism.

She visited Yatala and the Adelaide women's prisons near the end of last year, as part of the state's Autism Strategy.

With many people with disabilities in prison, Ms Bourke said staff in the prison system needed more training about autism.

Staff needed to learn how to best support themselves, understand why a neurodivergent person may be behaving in a certain way and provide support to inmates when required, she said.

"What we've seen is that when people leave a prison with a little bit more of an understanding about themselves, is that they are less likely to reoffend," Ms Bourke said.

"We all want people, when they leave a prison system, to go back into the community wanting to be a part of a community - and that keeps us all safe."

Training for correctional services staff regarding autism has already started.

Emergency services

Ms Bourke commended local emergency services volunteers.

"To all of our CFS volunteers and SES volunteers, I say a massive thank you and I look forward to hearing and learning more about what they are doing in their communities," she said.

"On a hot and windy day when you live on a farm surrounded by stubble, you are on alert but you also know the incredible role that CFS and SES volunteers play."

These volunteers left their work and give up everything to serve their community, which was an incredible story that should be celebrated, she said.

Women in politics

There are now a record seven women in the 17-member South Australian Cabinet.

Ms Bourke said she felt fortunate to work with many exceptional women across the Labor Party.

She said she tried to lead by example and had trained a number of young women who have gone on to achieve great things, including Ella Shaw, who grew up in Wallaroo.

Ms Bourke said Ms Shaw started by working some hours in her office and was now a national campaign organiser in Canberra.

She said she felt privileged to support women, as she was supported herself.

"As a young kid who came to Adelaide, (I) did not have much political experience, and was given a go," Ms Bourke said.

"I always like to pay those opportunities forward."

South Australia continues to lead in autism inclusion, with initiatives such as free autism assessments for up to 100 eligible students and a $28.8

Minister Bourke said South Australia's leadership in autism support is shaping national strategies. She emphasised that bringing the right people together would help break down barriers and drive meaningful change.

Autism affects more than 200,000 Australians, with 41 per cent of SA's NDIS participants identifying as autistic.

'State of denial': whistleblower calls out Kadina Memorial School

Sarah Herrmann JOURNALIST

KADINA Memorial School has been accused of handling the fallout of former teacher Thomas Robert Ackland's paedophilia in "a state of denial" and without "the children as the first priority".

A former staff member and mother of one of Mr Ackland's victims, who first reported Ackland to police, has spoken out after a former student filed a $500,000 lawsuit against the State Government last month.

The woman is not a party to the lawsuit.

She told the YP Country Times she called Crimestoppers on Sunday, June 14, 2020, after learning Mr Ackland had groomed her son via social media.

The following Wednesday during an online (due to Covid-19 restrictions) staff meeting, staff were briefly reminded not to interact with students on social media, she said.

"So I assumed the police had been in contact with the school (but) I was shocked that was (only) as much as what was said (at the meeting)."

Between then and Mr Ackland's arrest nine months later in March 2021, the former staffer said "nothing else was done".

Following the arrest, she said staff and students were discouraged from discussing it.

"In any staff meetings we were all told not to be talking about it outside of school to anyone, not to discuss anything and we were told if students were talking about it to shut it down," she said.

"Families have said to me that their kids were coming home and ... were saying 'we're not allowed to talk about it."

Despite both she and her husband as well as her son informing staff members he was a victim, she said the school failed to pass on her son's name to police.

The staff member arranging counselling was also not informed he was a victim.

The former staffer said she left her position at the school because she "couldn't sit by and see nothing being done," she said.

"I didn't feel proud of working at that site anymore.

"It hasn't been taken seriously enough.

"It's like everyone was in a state of denial ... when there was a Crimestoppers call, another staff member had spoken to him (in 2018, about interacting with students on social media), and there's children speaking up.

"Everything's just been hush hush to protect the name of the school and not having the children as the first priority.

"Things just have to change."

A Department for Education spokesperson said the department was unable to comment due to a related matter currently before the courts.

The Minister for Education did not respond to a request for comment by the required deadline.

Ackland to appeal –

THOMAS Robert Ackland is to appeal the length of his sentence in the Supreme Court before the Court of Appeal on Tuesday, February 11.

The grounds of appeal are "the learned sentencing judge erred in imposing a sentence which was manifestly excessive".

In December 2023, Mr Ackland was sentenced to 14 years in jail on 13 counts of aggravated communicating with the intention of making a child amenable to sexual activity and one of sexual abuse of a child.

The events which are the subject of the charges spanned from 2017 to just a week before his arrest in March 2021.

caused by reckless driving in the area.

At about 10.15pm on Friday, January 31, police responded to reports of a vehicle doing burnouts on Minnie Terrace.

Officers located a maroon Ford sedan with a missing bonnet, along with seven teenagers.

Following investigations, police identified the driver as an 18-year-old Moonta man, who has been reported for multiple offences, including misuse of a motor vehicle, failing to truthfully answer questions, breaching probationary licence conditions and failing to maintain vehicle standards.

The vehicle was impounded for 28 days, and the driver will be summonsed to appear in the Kadina Magistrates Court. Additionally, six other teenagers from the Moonta area, aged 16 to 18, were reported for failing to truthfully answer questions and will also be summonsed to appear in court.

Police continue to investigate and are working to identify other individuals involved in the hoon driving incidents. The community is urged to report any further incidents, and anyone with additional information or video footage is encouraged to contact police. burnouts crashed into a fence in Wallaroo.

The car collided with a fence before driving away.

Later, police located the vehicle on the back of a tow truck in Kadina. It is alleged the tow truck driver was also the driver of the sedan.

A 27-year-old Wallaroo man has been reported for several offences, including driving without due care, misuse of a motor vehicle, driving an unregistered and uninsured vehicle, failing to truthfully answer questions, and driving with unassigned plates.

A second man, aged 34 and also from Wallaroo, later attended the scene, claiming he was the driver. He was reported for failing to truthfully answer questions.

Both men will be summonsed to appear in court.

Last chance for community input in Yorke Peninsula health inquiry

Joanna Tucker JOURNALIST

MEMBER for Narungga Fraser Ellis is urging the community to complete their submissions to the parliamentary health inquiry before they close at 5pm this Friday, February 7.

The SA Parliamentary Inquiry into the Delivery of Health Services on the Yorke Peninsula was triggered when a petition raised by Mr Ellis, and signed by 11,000 people, was tabled in the House of Assembly in November 2023. The inquiry officially began in November 2024.

Mr Ellis is urging the community to support submissions, just as they did for the initial petition.

"I want to encourage the community to put the same effort into sharing their stories as they did in signing the petition," Mr Ellis said.

"This is a vitally important part of the process.

"The weight of submissions whether they contain harrowing experiences or highlight positive aspects of the system — will be pivotal in shaping a report we can use to lobby and advocate for meaningful improvements."

After February 7, SA Parliament's Economic and Finance Committee will review submissions and determine the next steps.

Mr Ellis said he hoped the committee would visit Yorke Peninsula to investigate the issue further.

'(All being well) they will choose to come out to our part of the world and conduct some hearings to hear from people who have made submissions, ask some questions and speak to doctors and that sort of thing," Mr Ellis said.

"In theory, they could just write

THE Parliamentary Inquiry into the Delivery of Health Services provides residents, visitors and organisations with the opportunity to share their experiences – both positive and negative - regarding hospitals and public health services in the region.

Submissions should:

- Clearly address the inquiry's terms of reference (available at https://tinyurl.com/ YPHealthInquiry)
- Include a brief introduction about the individual or organisation
- Explain why the issue is important

Be clear, relevant, and concise To protect privacy, it is recommended to generalise examples to ensure they cannot be traced back to specific individuals. Submissions can also be made anonymously and can be provided as written statements, either handwritten or typed, and sent by post (to The Parliamentary Officer, Economic and Financial Committee, GPO Box 572, Adelaide SA 5001) or email (EFC.Assembly@ parliament.sa.gov.au). Browns Beach rocks claim another victim

"IT IS a major operation - we like to tip in as many resources as we can to try and have a positive outcome," Superintendent Mark Syrus from the SAPOL Yorke and Mid North Local Service Area said.

Supt Syrus said the victim's companions had attempted to rescue him.

"When he entered the water, he was on his back and the other members were trying to cast lines over him so he could grab hold of the lines," he said.

"Unfortunately, that was not successful.

The family of the victim was at Browns Beach on Sunday as the search took place.

"It's devastating for the family, (they are from) a very close-knit community," Supt Syrus said.

"We are working closely with the family to ensure they are supported in this terrible, tragic time."

More safety measures needed: volunteer

A LOCAL emergency services volunteer has called for more safety measures around Browns Beach in Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park.

Warooka SES deputy manager Roger Murdoch was among volunteers who assisted in the search for Nasir Mohsini, who fell into the water while fishing from a large rock at the beach on Saturday night, February 1.

His body was found the next day near Pondalowie Bay.

Mr Murdoch said he said he had volunteered in many search efforts around the national park's coastline in his 55 years as an SES volunteer.

He said the rock where Mr Mohsini had been fishing was particularly dangerous.

"The rock has a very rounded slope and it's slippery when you get to a certain point," he said.

"If you take one step too many, you are gone.

"This coastline is treacherous in places, and you need to know what you are doing."

"Fishing from the rocks in this location, or any other remote location within the park, is actively discouraged due to the safety risk," he said.

The spokesperson also said there were no immediate plans to increase signage at Browns Beach.

"A thorough risk assessment of the area was undertaken after a previous drowning in 2021, in consultation with SAPOL and Surf Lifesaving SA, which also took into account the Coroner's report findings.

"Signage and fencing were upgraded as a result of this review and included providing warnings in Arabic and Farsi languages."

Another volunteer who took part in the weekend rescue effort, who did not wish to be named, said the telephone infrastructure in the national park needed to be improved to cope during emergency situations.

He said service in the park had deteriorated since 3G had been turned off in late October and the number of people in the

Kicking up dust at The Pines

Rachel Hagan JOURNALIST

RESIDENTS of The Pines, near Corny Point, have long complained about dust affecting their homes, water and air.

Now, frustrated by decades of inaction, they are calling on Yorke Peninsula Council to fix their roads.

Pines Community The Association presented a petition signed by just over 200 locals to YPC at council's January meeting, calling for the community's roads to be bituminised.

Pines Community Association chair Phil Walker said the dust was so bad that, even if he completely closed up his house for a week, a thick layer of dust would still manage to coat his home's interior.

Though the dust was a problem to clean, Mr Walker said it caused dangerous issues for many in the community, such as asthma sufferers and people with other breathing conditions.

'The dust also settles in our gutters, it can be a layer of five or six millimetres, and then when it rains all that dust turns to mud and washes into our rainwater tanks," he said.

"That's the water we drink."

Mr Walker said he knew they chose to live in a rural community, but he believed everyone was entitled to a good standard of living that was dust free.

"We pay the same rates as everyone else," he said.

In January's meeting, YPC director of asset and infrastructure services Andre Kompler said he estimated the sealing of The Pines streets would cost council about $2.5 million.

However, this cost did not include a sufficient resolution for the drainage issue caused by the town's low-lying topography.

Mr Walker disputed the drainage claim because he said The Pines already flooded when it rained, and nothing had been done about it before.

"Where do you think it goes now?" Mr Walker said.

Council acknowledged there were existing drainage issues, but Mr Kompler said drainage should still be considered as part of the project.

However, at the YPC meeting, Mr Kompler additionally presented a cheaper solution to the $2.5m plan, which he said would specifically target the dust issue.

"As an alternative, council could also consider a more cost-effective solution - rehabilitating the existing street network through cement binding and strengthening which could help manage dust at a significantly lower cost of around $500,000," Mr Kompler said.

"These options will be assessed as part of the broader budget process before a draft Annual Business Plan and Budget is released for community consultation.

"We encourage The Pines residents and all community members to engage in this process to help shape council's final budget decisions."

Members of The Pines Community Association said they were happy YPC was taking action, but they wanted more in-person consultation from the council, so they could come to an appropriate solution for their community.

YPC chief executive Andrew Cameron said council understood the concerns about dust and he appreciated residents who voiced their views through the petition.

"Each year, council carefully assesses its priorities as part of the Annual Business Plan and Budget process," Mr Cameron said.

"This involves balancing existing asset renewal needs, community requests and available funding, while ensuring financial responsibility.

"The Pines project will be included in this process, with council staff preparing a budget bid for consideration alongside other capital works projects."

Mr Cameron said he wanted to assure the community council was considering potential solutions.

Students begin their country practice

Joanna Tucker

A TRIO of fifth-year University of Adelaide medical students began their practical experience on the Copper Coast last week.

Alleah Maywald, Manuela Rogers and Libby Chisholm will be working between medical practices in Kadina, Moonta and Wallaroo, as well as Wallaroo Hospital, to gain invaluable rural experience during their yearlong placement through the university's Adelaide Rural Clinical School.

I know it takes a lot of dedication and work, but the learning does not stop here — in your field, the learning will be forever and ever.

Roslyn Talbot,
 Copper Coast mayor

Copper Coast mayor Roslyn Talbot, language specialist Tania Wanganeen and representatives of local general practices and the university attended the welcome event at Coopers Alehouse, Wallaroo.

Mayor Talbot congratulated the three students on reaching their fifth year of medical school and welcomed them to the region.

"I know it takes a lot of dedication and work, but the learning does not stop here — in your field, the learning will be forever and ever," Mayor Talbot said.

"We are very privileged to welcome you out here into the regions.

"Hopefully you can see what a great lifestyle you can have here so, as you are plotting your futures, the regions may be in your sights."

LEARNING EXPERIENCE... Adelaide Rural Clinical School director Professor Lucie Walters, ARCS operations manager Dee Risley, ARCS head of education Dr Katrina Morgan with fifth year University of Adelaide medical students Alleah Maywald, Manuela Rogers and Libby Chisholm.

Alleah Maywald, who grew up on a rural property in Tasmania, said the opportunity to do her placement on the Copper Coast was amazing.

"I live on a property back home in Tasmania, which has been part of my life since I was born, so the rural lifestyle is very close to my heart and something I would really like to pursue in the future," Ms Maywald said.

"Being able to take the opportunity to come here and have the rural teachings and support of this smaller community has been amazing from the get-go.

"I'm very grateful and very excited to be here on the Copper Coast."

Libby Chisholm, from Adelaide, said she has always been interested in rural medicine.

"A lot of my family lives in rural and regional Victoria, so it (rural medicine) is something that I am very passionate about," Ms Chisholm said. "I wanted to take this year to see if I can experience and see what the rural life is like and see if it is something that might suit me later on down the track."

Ms Chisholm also said it was lovely to be welcomed by so many community members.

Manuela Rogers, from the Adelaide Hills, said she had been looking forward to her placement on the Copper Coast since she applied for medical school.

"I have always wanted to do rural medicine, and I have been looking

Sail into Port Vic

SHIPS RETURN... Port Victoria 150 Celebrations Committee secretary David Amery and Port Victoria Progress Association chair Wendy Brusnahan borrow some of the museum's artefacts to demonstrate the town's maritime past.

A town with ship-loads of history

Rachel Hagan

TALL ships will return to Port Victoria to celebrate the port town's 150-year celebrations, thanks to berthing piles that will be installed next to the existing jetty.

At January's ordinary Yorke Peninsula Council meeting, elected members voted to accept the donation of the proposed berthing piles to ensure the project could go ahead and be covered under YPC's public liability insurance.

Port Victoria 150 Celebrations Committee president Greg Twelftree said local benefactors would pay for the structure and engineering costs of the piles, which would be placed adjacent to the jetty to avoid any damage.

Mr Twelftree said.

The piles were needed to provide a secure space for the two tall ships Mr Twelftree had organised to sttend the event: the Soren Larsen and the One and All.

The committee hoped these ships would help make the 150th celebrations, from March 7 to 9, 2026, one of YP's biggest events of the year.

Mr Twelftree said visitors would be able to book special trips on the ships from capital cities (to be announced) to Port Victoria or take a shorter ride on the day.

Port Victoria Progress Association chair Wendy Brusnahan said the committee had been working tirelessly for the past three years to make sure the jetty was accessible. YPC mayor Darren Braund said council acknowledged the historical and cultural significance this opportunity could bring to Port Victoria's 150-year celebrations.

"The return of tall ships to Port Victoria would be a fitting tribute to the town's maritime heritage, and council is pleased to provide in-principle support as the project develops," Mayor Braund said.

"The Port Victoria Progress Association and 150th Celebrations Committee have demonstrated great initiative in pursuing this project, which could deliver long-term benefits to the township and its visitors.

BWC backs new library action plan to transform experiences

BARUNGA West Council has endorsed a Community Library Action Plan (2024-2026) to transform libraries in Port Broughton and Bute into dynamic hubs for learning, connection, and creativity.

Approved by elected members late last year, the plan will move forward, with funding to be considered in the 2025-26 budget.

Developed with community input, the plan addresses challenges in current library infrastructure while improving accessibility and inclusivity.

Key initiatives include relocating Bute Library from the Rural Transaction Centre to the Old Council Chambers, providing a more welcoming space with natural light and modern facilities. Improved signage and branding will enhance visibility.

Enhancements to Port Broughton Library will create a more inclusive environment, adding comfortable reading areas, tea and coffee facilities, and seasonal decorations. A large community mural will celebrate local culture.

Programs such as school holiday activities, literacy workshops and author events will be expanded.

Digital resources will be improved with free wi-fi, public computers and e-books.

A home delivery service will support those unable to visit.

Community feedback influenced the plan, with residents favouring weekend access over 24/7 service and highlighting the need for school partnerships.

The estimated $39,000 cost over two years includes $20,000 for library upgrades, $10,000 for promotions, and $5000 for expanded services.

Mayor Leonie Kerley said the plan reflected the council's commitment to education, connection and cultural enrichment, ensuring libraries remain valuable community assets.

Port Broughton and Bute libraries are both open 9am to 5pm, Monday to Friday.

Taheny stars in State Theatre production

Sarah Herrmann JOURNALIST

EMILY Taheny, formerly of Warooka, is set to star in the State Theatre Company's new play, Housework.

A world premiere black comedy about politics and parenting, Housework follows three women: MP Ruth Mandor (Susie Youssef), junior staffer Kelly Sheppard (Franca Lafosse) and chief of staff Anna Cooper (Taheny).

Anna juggles Ruth's new policy, a sick media adviser, a husband struggling with their daughter, and choosing pastries.

"Anna is strong and resilient, a doer, multitasking all the time," Emily said, and she observed that balancing career and family resonated with many women in her home region.

Emily's career began at St Columba's Memorial School, Yorketown.

"The nuns were very music-focused, we all learnt instruments and they used to put on these big productions every year," she said.

"It was just a normal thing to have that experience in putting on a show."

But pursuing acting wasn't easy. "After year 12 and then an acting course at The Centre for the Performing Arts, none of my country friends and family knew what that (world) was; I didn't really know what I was getting myself in for either," she said.

"I had no examples of people who had done anything like that." Her advice for young YP actors is to find opportunities.

"Get involved in any theatre making or TV or film making that you can, if that's what you enjoy, and surround yourself with likeminded people who want to create fun things," she said.

"And there are so many short courses available to hone your skills; you don't have to do a three-year course in acting."

Housework explores politics

PLAYWRIGHT Emily Steel's Housework draws inspiration from conversations with political insiders.

"I won't tell you who they were or exactly what they said, but I will say that what they told me surprised me, infuriated me, impressed me and moved me," Ms Steel said.

"I heard how parents have to leave their kids when they fly off to Canberra, how women come up with tactics to protect other women, and what keeps people working in that world — sometimes it's idealism, sometimes it's ego, sometimes it's a sense of 'if not me, then who?'." State Theatre Company South Australia artistic associate Shannon

Rush said the play offers comedic insight into the sacrifices of politics.

"(Emily Steel) explores how women navigate a system designed for, and still dominated by, men," she said.

"Her writing is intelligent and sharp \ldots it's very much a play for now, a story that captures the Zeitgeist."

Housework runs from Wednesday, February 7, to Wednesday, February 22, at Dunstan Playhouse, Adelaide Festival Centre.

SERVICE... Moonta Gourmet Meats butcher Sebastian Sapio and proprietor Rhys O'Donohue; Mr O'Donohue believes apprentice wages should be supplemented by the government.

Top-up sought to train butchers

Michelle Daw

A MOONTA butcher has called for the Federal Government to top up apprentice wages to make them more appealing to young people.

Rhys O'Donohue of Moonta Gourmet Meats has two apprentices and said he was always looking for more.

But, with an hourly rate of $14 an hour for a first-year apprentice butcher, it was hard to compete with the wages being offered for unskilled jobs in industries such as retail and hospitality, which offer $5 to for their three-year apprenticeship.

Mr O'Donohue said the working hours for butchers could also be a negative for young people.

"Apprentice butchers also have to work on weekends, public holidays and so on when they want to play sport or be with their friends," he said.

"In the meat industry, those are our busiest times. "It's a very seasonal business

Mr O'Donohue employs two butchers aged in their 60s and another in his mid-30s, so he said he was keen to train young people.

"The future of the industry is young people and if we can't find them, how can we continue to service Yorke Peninsula with meat?" he said. Mr O'Donohue employs 14 Rhys O'Donohue,

"If someone wanted to come here to work as a butcher and I couldn't offer them accommodation, they couldn't come — it is a crisis," he said.

Mr O'Donohue urged young people keen on taking up a trade to consider the meat industry.

"It's a challenging industry but it's a job you will always have as long as people need to eat," he said.

BWC grants reversal on rate rebate for Masonic Lodge

Michelle Daw JOURNALIST

A DECISION in 2024 to remove a 100 per cent rate rebate for the Port Broughton Masonic Lodge has been reversed.

At its monthly meeting on January 21, Barunga West Council voted to reinstate the rebate in full and to reimburse the lodge for the two quarterly rate payments it had already made for 2024-25.

The motion stated that the decision was based on the lodge's clarification that it was a community-based, non-commercial organisation, and was an acknowledgement of the lodge's contribution to the local community.

The lodge will still be liable for the Community Waste Water Service charge.

A report tabled at the meeting said the decision in May 2024 to remove the rebate was based on a misunderstanding of the lodge's financial position.

Councillor Margaret McDonald said she had a discussion with a representative of Masonic Lodges of South Australia.

"It (the Port Broughton lodge) is not a money-making venture and it gives back to the community," she said.

"Their purpose is to care for people, hence why organisations such as hospitals, nursing homes and schools or kindies, are the places that receive funding.

Cr McDonald said the Port Broughton District Hospital and Health Services was considering applying to the trust for a grant.

"You can only apply to the Masonic Lodge (Charitable Trust) if you have a lodge in your town," she said.

"I understand that the ability to find the money for the rates is an issue which could lead them (the lodge) to leave the community."

Mayor Leonie Kerley said other organisations which had previously been given a 100 per cent rate rebate for providing a benefit to the local community were the Mundoora Community Club, Bute Bowling Club, Port Broughton Golf Club and local RSL sub-branches.

Port Broughton Masonic Lodge secretary Ray Walker said the lodge had 14 members.

In addition to three locals, members also travelled from Moonta, Port Pirie and Adelaide to Port Broughton for monthly meetings.

"Without the rate rebate, our club would not be in existence, because we rely on membership," Mr Walker said.

"We are just trying to keep the little place going.

"It has grown in the past two to three years — we were looking at closing it down six years ago."

Mr Walker said the lodge made regular small donations to local organisations, in addition to the larger donations made by the Masonic Charities Trust.

It donated $100 a year to Port Broughton Area School for its Student of the Year award and $150 a year to the Uniting Country Christmas Appeal.

"Anything we can do to help the community of Port Broughton we will do," he said.

RECREATIONAL fisher Ray Ladhams proposes adding another ramp or traffic lights to ease congestion at the Port Hughes boat ramp.

The ramp, which is among the busiest in the state, currently allows for six boats to launch and/or return at a time.

Mr Ladhams, from Moonta Bay, said its popularity had grown exponentially over the past three years and was busier than ever this summer, with wait times reaching up to 40 minutes.

"Sometimes you're trying to get out and there's 10 to 15 boats ready to come in; it's a nightmare," he said.

"The population...in holiday times is massive...you're probably used to catering (for) 100 boats and now you get 150-plus."

And, with the region's population expected to grow (by about 6500 or 17.5 per cent, according to the Plan SA's Local Area Population Projections for South Australia, 2021 to 2041, released last year), the situation will only get worse, he said.

The ramp had a $1m upgrade in 2017, with funding received by the Copper Coast Council from the State Government's SA Boating Facility Advisory Committee to facilitate the work.

Mr Ladhams suggested there was enough room for the concrete ramp, currently used for dredging and featuring a steep drop-off, to be repurposed as an out ramp for boats.

"If they can't use that second boat ramp, which would be ideal, then they need to have green and red lights, and that red light is just for out," he said.

Copper Coast Council infrastructure services director Tim Neumann said, while he appreciated the boat ramp could be busy over summer, there were no immediate plans for upgrades.

"Council would need to consider any changes to the Port Hughes ramp carefully," Mr Neumann said.

"Investment would be required from the Department for Environment and Water, which had a major say on the current ramp configuration. "Outside of peak periods,

the Port Hughes boat ramp is generous and provides total freedom for boaties to launch on demand.

"As such, there are no immediate plans for any major boat ramp infrastructure updates, but council may consider it as part of its Future Growth Strategy."

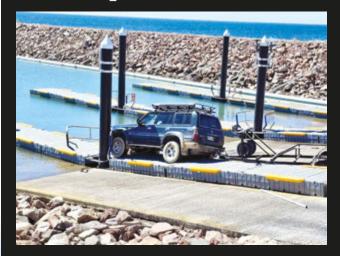

Council chief executive Dylan Strong acknowledged the inconvenience.

"One of the unavoidable byproducts of the region's strong tourism sector is increased congestion at supermarkets, petrol stations, boat ramps and the like," Mr Strong said.

"Council understands that this causes some inconvenience to residents but also knows the importance of a busy summer to our local businesses."

Regional doctors' survey opens

DOCTORS are being called on to help shape rural health policies.

The Australian Medical Association urges regional, rural and remote doctors to participate in its 2025 Rural Health Issues Survey.

"Working as a rural doctor can be rewarding, but it has unique challenges," AMA president Dr Danielle McMullen said.

"Workforce shortages, infrastructure issues, distance and a higher incidence of major illnesses are issues our rural doctors face daily.

"The AMA has called for strategies and investments to support our rural workforce for years.

"We want rural doctors to share their experiences and tell us the priorities ahead of the federal election.

"We will use the survey results to ensure rural health is on politicians' agendas." The AMA has run the survey every three years since 2016.

The 2022 survey highlighted gaps in training pathways and workforce retention.

The AMA used these results to call for extra funding, resources to support staffing and regional training networks.

AMA Council of Rural Doctors chair Dr Ian Kamerman said many respondents expressed fulfilment from serving rural communities.

"We know rural health is rewarding, but investment and reform are needed to address workforce and training issues to ensure it attracts young doctors," Dr Kamerman said.

The survey is open to current and former regional, rural and remote doctors; it closes on February 19. You can find it at https://tinyurl.com/ yk4w2zj9.

DEAR DIARY... Port Victoria Maritime Museum volunteer Elaine Hall reads through the comical accounts from Anthony Newton's diary; Newton was a cook on the Passat in 1948.

Small but mighty

Rachel Hagan JOURNALIST

LOCATED inside a little old cargo shed from 1877, the Port Victoria Maritime Museum holds one of the most in-depth collections of maritime history featuring one of the most influential ports on Yorke Peninsula.

Do not let its petite size fool you visitors still need at least half a day to get through all this museum's unique treasures.

Often, when you visit a museum, your eyes are bombarded with hundreds of fascinating artefacts, but the human story behind the items is lost.

Port Victoria Museum will not leave you wondering about anything, and if you want to know the 100-year-old gossip from the Cape Horners who risked it all on the perilous windjammer sailing ships, this is the place for you.

Between 1878 and 1933, just over 10 million bags of grain were shipped from Port Victoria in the Great Grain Race.

From January to June, ships would sail from Europe to collect grain from Port Victoria to take back home in an unofficial race which took them through dangerous waters. Enroute, the windjammers navigated the notorious Drake Passage, between Cape Horn, Argentina, in the north and the South Shetland Islands, Antarctica.

Museum volunteer Elaine Hall said local young men, dubbed Cape Horners, would jump aboard the ships to work, but more importantly to go on a bit of an adventure around the world.

"Most of the ships were crewed by Danish, Finnish, Swedish and German people, so they didn't speak the same language," she said.

"And conditions were appalling going around Cape Horn with the rough seas.

"They had no fresh food, and they'd be on the ship for three months with nothing fresh to eat."

The museum holds a special collection of Cape Horners' memorabilia, which includes crew diaries which can be read by the public.

Mrs Hall said these diaries could be quite comedic with the men revealing their inner thoughts of day-to-day life on the ships.

Anthony Newton, who sailed on the Passat in 1948, kept a very entertaining diary, which documented how he surprisingly found out he was the ship's cook and the interesting meals he then came up with. "He starts off, it's May the 13th 1948, I'm wearing white, therefore I must be the cook," she said while reading from Newton's diary.

"A fresh breeze has sprung up — pancakes and pea soup that's for tea."

However, if reading is not your thing, the museum still has plenty to look at.

Upon entering, the first item which will likely grab your attention is the early 1900s scuba suit, which was worn by divers to investigate the condition of shipwrecks and to see if they were worth resurfacing.

Mrs Hall said the suit was worn for dives on the wreck of the Songvaar just off Point Pearce, which happened to sink the same day as the Titanic.

"It would have been terrifying going down in that," she said.

"And someone would have been pumping air down to him (the diver), so you would have to hope he was a good friend.

"The boots weigh 8.5 kilograms, and that was just the boots, he also had belts and helmets."

The museum is open from 2pm to 4pm on weekends and public holidays, but Mrs Hall said she welcomed people to call her to organise alternative viewings.

First Nations training grants available

THE Skills for Education and Employment program supports First Nations people to improve language, literacy, numeracy and digital (LLND) skills.

SEE is specifically designed for First Nations people and organisations, and eligible First Nations people have the option to choose to access SEE training through both the SEE General Delivery and SEE First Nations.

All Australians over the age of 15 who have left school and who need help with their language, literacy, numeracy and digital skills are also eligible for the general delivery program.

The program, funded by the Australian Government, offers two types of grants: scoping and delivery. community engagement and capacity building. They help determine the need for LLND training and assist with delivery grant applications. These grants have a maximum value of $30,000 and are ongoing. Delivery grants fund organisations to provide

Investing in nursing to improve healthcare access

INVESTING in Australia's nursing workforce will improve healthcare access for all, according to the Australian College of Nursing.

Nurses and midwives make up 54 per cent of Australia's health workforce and represent the most geographically dispersed health profession in the country.

The ACN Pre-Budget Submission 2025–26 outlines practical and affordable solutions to build the nursing workforce needed to meet the growing and ageing population's care needs, particularly as more people live with multiple chronic and complex conditions.

"Nurses provide care for individuals, families and communities through all stages of life," ACN chief executive Adjunct Professor Kathryn Zeitz FACN said.

"We want nurses to stay in the profession for their entire working lives, offering them rewarding careers with variety and leadership opportunities.

"We also want them to stay longer at the end of their careers, acting as mentors and passing on their wisdom to the next generation."

The ACN Pre-Budget Submission 2025–26 focuses on five key areas: elevating the image of nursing, strengthening nurse-led models of care, maximising nursing workforce capability, enabling the practice environment, and cultivating nurse leadership.

Adjunct Professor Zeitz said vulnerable populations, including those in rural and remote areas, First Nations communities, older Australians, disadvantaged groups and people with chronic illness, would benefit most from allowing nurses to fully utilise their skills, qualifications and experience.

"The success of nurse-led clinics is proof," she said.

"In many communities, nurses are the most qualified and skilled health professionals.

"In others, they are the only health professionals.

"Nurses are trusted. Nurses are respected. They can do more. They want to do more." For more information, head to https://www.acn.edu.au/.

VERSATILE... Australian College of Nursing chief executive Adjunct Professor Kathryn Zeitz PhD FACN says nurses, nurse practitioners and midwives are uniquely positioned to provide safe, highquality care across all healthcare settings.

Wool Bay Golf Club undergoes upgrades

Wilson McShane

WOOL Bay Golf Club has completed its latest clubhouse upgrades after securing a $5000 Yorke Peninsula Council community grant in November.

Club president John Jansen said the project involved enclosing the existing verandah, which was under the main roof, and installing a second-hand roller door, insulation, exterior cladding and interior gyprocking.

Mr Jansen expressed the club's appreciation for council's ongoing support, noting that, over the past decade, the club had received about $10,000 in grant funding for various renovations. He said these grants had been a great help and were highly valued by the club.

Golf is played year-round on Wool Bay's nine-hole course and, while the club has around 22 members (not all of whom are playing members), it regularly welcomes players from neighbouring clubs during summer when their home courses close.

Mr Jansen said the clubhouse upgrades would allow it to serve as a community space for Wool Bay and surrounding areas. With no local shops or pubs, he hoped the club could become a gathering place where residents could connect over coffee.

"And it's looking more like a clubhouse now," Mr Jansen said.

The new facilities, including a bar, kitchen, and large TV, have transformed the space into a fully functioning clubhouse, all built by volunteers.

However, further renovations were planned, including levelling the floor, installing a proper door and adding an eight-ball table.

WBGC was one of 27 successful recipients of YPC community grants, which collectively distributed more than $89,000.

YPC mayor Darren Braund said the program aimed to empower local groups such as the WBGC.

"By partnering with these dedicated community organisations, we're strengthening Yorke Peninsula and enriching the lives of our residents," Mayor Braund said.

"Each grant helps create spaces and services that benefit our community, making Yorke Peninsula a more vibrant place to live and visit."

Uni Hub launches early childhood courses

Sarah Herrmann JOURNALIST

EARLY childhood education qualifications are now available via Uni Hub Spencer Gulf.

It is hoped training staff locally will lead to Yorke Peninsula becoming less of a childcare desert (more than three children per available childcare place).

Uni Hub Spencer Gulf, covering YP, has partnered with Central Queensland University to deliver the course, allowing regional South Australians to study locally.

The opportunity has stemmed from the Uni Hub Spencer Gulf Roxby Downs Early Childhood Project, Copper Coast University Centre manager Sue Barry said.

"One of our staff members was working at the (Roxby Downs Children's Centre) and said they had a staff shortage - but the shortage wasn't because there weren't any willing people, it was because they couldn't access training," she said.

"I come from an early childhood background, so I understood the needs and, also coming from a training background, I understood the inequity of regional students."

Uni Hub Spencer Gulf, CQU, and BHP collaborated to train staff in Roxby Downs.

The project received two Australian Rural Education Awards and the InDaily Regional Showcase Lifelong Learning Award, was runner-up in the Premier's Energy and Mining Awards, and will feature in the Australian International RECOGNITION... Copper Coast University Centre manager Sue Barry with Uni Hub Spencer Gulf's numerous awards for its work establishing early childhood education pathways in regional SA.

Journal of Rural Education.

"Because of the project's success, anyone in regional South Australia can access CQU to study early childhood anywhere in the state," Mrs Barry said. "They don't have to attend a campus, and they use virtual observation

for evidence-gathering."

Mrs Barry said the project's success demonstrated Uni Hub Spencer Gulf's 'grow your own' approach, meaning regions train local talent to meet local workforce needs.

"(The project) addressed an immediate need and crisis, so the flow-on effect is that the centre can bring in more children so more people can go to work or study," she said.

"We're not necessarily going to fix the lack of childcare facilities, but we can contribute to workforce needs.

"(It's about) lifting aspirations for people to realise 'it doesn't matter where I live, I can still achieve and make positive change in my community."

To inquire about early childhood education, visit unihubsg.org/study-enquiryform/ or call Mrs Barry on 0419 198 951.

TAKE A SEAT... A $20,000 State Government grant helped put up a new shelter in Hardwicke Bay.

A SHELTER looking out across the pristine sandy beach and crystal-clear water at Hardwicke Bay has been completed with support from the South Australian Government's Thriving Communities Program.

The Hardwicke Bay Progress Association received a $20,000 grant which, along with funds raised by the group, donations from the local community and assistance from Yorke Peninsula Council, helped bring the project to life.

Hardwicke Bay Progress Association president Ashley Gordon said the association was grateful to the SA Government for the grant.

"The area at the boat ramp car park has long been a popular place for people to wait for friends and family to return from fishing trips, but previously there hasn't been anywhere for them to sit or shelter from the sun," he said.

"Now there is not only a comfortable waiting area but an undercover space which the locals, shack owners and tourists can enjoy while taking in the magnificent views of the beach and ocean." Regional Development Minister Clare Scriven said she hoped the infrastructure would be utilised by generations of residents and holidaymakers for decades to come.

"As our regions continue to grow, we want our regional communities to thrive through improved liveability, helping to attract and retain people to live and work in the region," she said.

"The Hardwicke Bay shelter is a terrific example of the type of project that the Thriving Communities Program was designed to support, and I applaud the Hardwicke Bay Progress Association for their hard work and initiative."

Delivered through the State Government's Thriving Regions Fund, the Thriving Communities Program provides grants for small projects such as new or improved infrastructure, training, services or events with wellbeing outcomes.

The last round of funding included restoration works at Minlaton's heritage show pavilion, a new playground at Lochiel and additional powered sites at the Snowtown RV Park.

New leader at NYLGA

BRIDGET Ransome stepped into the role of Northern and Yorke Local Government Association chief executive in November. NYLGA chair, Wakefield

Regional Council mayor Rodney Reid, welcomed Ms Ransome on board, noting that the 15 councils comprising the peak regional local government organisation's membership had a strong history of collaboration for regional benefit.

Her appointment followed a review by the NYLGA of its charter, strategic plan and the chief executive's role.

These reviews allowed member councils to reflect on the association's role and identify activities that would add value and achieve positive outcomes for their communities, Mayor Reid said.

He also emphasised the importance of advocating for the region with the unified voice of 15 elected community leaders.

Ms Ransome said she was excited to be in her new role, highlighting her eagerness to return to local government and advocate for the region.

She looked forward to supporting and collaborating with the member councils to benefit their communities, she said.

Ms Ransome brings extensive experience to her new role, having spent seven years with the City of Marion and four years with the Mount Barker District Council, focusing on economic development and investment initiatives.

Her background also includes managing significant agri-business projects in viticulture and water management.

Before joining the NYLGA, she served as Uniting Church in South Australia head of communications.

SYP Historic Vehicle Club thriving

SOUTHERN Yorke Peninsula Historic Vehicle Club is going from strength to strength, with growing membership, new technology and an exciting calendar of events.

Originally formed in 1984 as the Southern Yorke Peninsula Veteran, Vintage and Classic Motorcycle Club, it rebranded in 2021 to welcome all types of historic vehicles, including cars, motorcycles and trucks.

The club now has more than 110 members and around 300 vehicles on club registration.

A major boost came in 2022 when changes to South Australia's Conditional Registration Scheme lowered the eligibility age for historic vehicles from 30 years to 25 years, increasing membership numbers.

Despite this growth, the club is still seeking volunteers, including a new treasurer.

To streamline administration, the club has introduced Member Jungle software, enabled by funding from the YPC AGL Wattle Point Community Fund and the SA Car Club Program Grant.

This allows members to access updates via the MJ app, reducing the workload on club administrators.

The club continues to expand its activities, with a project car restoration underway, regular club runs and a planned women's day event.

VINTAGE MOTORBIKES... Daryl Oldland and Richard Germein check out some of the old motorbikes at SYPHVC's 2024 Bottom End Rally.

One of the club's flagship events, the annual motorcycle rally, is set to return; alternating each year with the Bottom End Rally, the 39th Coast to Coast Rally will run from February 21 to 23.

Spectators will have plenty of opportunities to see the rally bikes in action:

• Minlaton and Districts Community Centre — 10.30am to 11.30am Saturday • Port Victoria Hotel — 12.30pm

- to 1.30pm Saturday
- Coobowie Caravan Park from 4pm Saturday (bikes will be judged and a raffle drawn) Warooka Bowling Club —
- ikes from 12pm Sunday

The club encourages the community to follow the rally on its Facebook page for updates and route information.

For anyone with a passion for historic vehicles, SYPHVC offers a welcoming and active community.

Whether you're interested in classic motorcycles, vintage cars, or historic trucks, there's a place for you in this growing club.

For more information, visit www. syphyc.com.au or follow the SYP Historic Vehicle Club on Facebook.

Makin' tracks at YP veterans centre

POPULAR vocalist Lyn Stead will return to the Yorke Peninsula Veterans and Community Centre in Kadina for the monthly Friday evening dinner on February 7.

Lyn has been working on new songs for her playlist while her longtime singing partner, Sandy Owen, takes a break to focus on her health.

Having performed across South Australia and interstate for many years, both as a solo artist and in various bands, Lyn is known for her renditions of classic songs from the 1950s to today.

"Gather your friends, book a table with the YP Veterans and Community Centre, and enjoy a night of great music and food," a spokesperson said.

"There's no cover charge for the entertainment; just pay for your meals and drinks."

A year of highs for Kadina club

KADINA Cottage Garden Club continues to welcome new members who share a common love of gardening and the great outdoors.

The club will commence another jam-packed year at the YP Veterans and Community Centre in Kadina at 9.30am on Wednesday, February 19, when Felicity from Paper Daisy will demonstrate the art of macrame.

Monthly meetings are held at various locations, where garden owners or guest speakers share their knowledge on a variety of interesting topics.

Last year, members learned about growing dahlias, wattles, citrus and spring gardens.

Nic from the Northern and Yorke Landscape Board provided insights on attracting frogs and other native animals into gardens, and Peter from The Australian Worm Firm demonstrated how to set up a worm farm and explained the many benefits of this 'liquid gold' for garden health.

Members also toured the heritage garden of the historical Moonta Mines Cottage, where "Captain Hancock" spoke about the ongoing restoration of this valuable landmark and the potential World Heritage status for the Moonta Mines district.

Additionally, visits were made to the beautiful gardens of Ros White, Ellen Baker, Rex Herde, and Peter Allen.

The annual bus trip included a visit to Adrian and Jan Stott's property to witness their passion for ferns, followed by a demonstration by blacksmiths at the Gum Flat Forge in Minlaton.

After enjoying a lovely lunch at the Minlaton Bowling Club, members indulged in some retail therapy at YorKreation Garden Centre before travelling to Yvonne and David Slater's Beveron Garden.

The club's final gathering for the year was the Christmas luncheon at the Prince Edward Hotel in Wallaroo.

The meal was delicious, and the entertainment was superb, with "The King" himself (Elvis) delighting members with some good old rock and roll. For information, call Leanne on 0418 859 701.

Valentine's Day gift guide: jewellery, flowers and heartfelt cards

VALENTINE'S Day is the perfect occasion to celebrate love and show your special someone how much they mean to you.

Whether you're marking a new romance or cherishing a lifelong bond, the right gift can make the day even more memorable.

From timeless jewellery to fresh flowers and heartfelt greeting cards, here's how to create the perfect Valentine's surprise.

Sparkle with jewellery

Jewellery is a classic Valentine's Day gift that symbolises love, commitment and appreciation.

Whether you choose a delicate pendant, a charm bracelet or a pair of elegant earrings, a beautifully crafted piece can be a lasting reminder of your affection.

For something truly special, consider personalised jewellery, such as an engraved pendant or a birthstone piece that reflects their personality.

Tip: If you're planning a romantic proposal, Valentine's Day is one of the most popular times to pop the question. A stunning engagement ring can turn the day into an unforgettable milestone.

Say it with flowers

Nothing captures the romance of Valentine's Day quite like a bouquet of fresh flowers.

Red roses are a timeless symbol of love but, if you want something A well-chosen present unique, consider lilies, orchids or tulips in their favourite colour.

A beautifully arranged floral gift can brighten their day and express your emotions in a way words sometimes can't.

Tip: Want your flowers to last longer? Choose a preserved rose arrangement or a dried floral bouquet that will keep its beauty beyond Valentine's Day.

Express your love with a greeting card

A heartfelt message can be one of the most meaningful gifts of all.

A beautifully designed Valentine's Day card gives you the chance to put your feelings into words — whether it's a simple "I love you" or a handwritten love letter.

Personalising your message makes it even more special, turning a simple card into a cherished keepsake.

Tip: Pair your card with a small surprise, such as a handwritten poem, a photo of a shared memory or a special date night invitation.

Make this Valentine's Day unforgettable

Whether you choose dazzling jewellery, a fragrant bouquet or a heartfelt card, the key to the perfect Valentine's gift is thoughtfulness.

shows you truly know and appreciate your partner, making the day extra special.

This Valentine's Day, celebrate love in a way that feels right for you and your partner — whether it's a grand romantic gesture or a simple, heartfelt moment together.

Treat yourself

And who says Valentine's Day is only for couples?

Whether you're single, enjoying your independence or simply prioritising self-care, this day is the perfect opportunity to celebrate yourself.

Instead of focusing on romance, embrace the occasion as a chance to indulge in things that bring you joy.

Whether it's a solo dinner, a pampering spa night or a quiet evening with a good book, use the day as a reminder that self-love is just as important as romantic love.

Fresh flowers aren't just for romantic gestures, they can be a simple way to lift your mood and bring beauty into your home.

Pick up your favourite blooms, arrange them in a vase and enjoy the burst of colour and fragrance.

You don't need a partner to gift you something special - treat yourself to a that sparkling ring, elegant earrings or a personalised pendant to remind yourself of your worth and individuality.

Choose something that makes you feel confident and radiant every time you wear it.

Coobowie kid on cusp of SACA contract

Wilson McShane

More than a decade ago, young cricket enthusiast James Reuther, from Coobowie, unwrapped the ultimate Christmas gift — a Paceman bowling machine.

The Paceman got its fair share of work in the backyard and now Reuther, 21, is on the precipice of earning a South Australian Cricket Association contract as a pace bowler.

He said his lifestyle was dedicated to elevating to the next level of the game.

"I have cricket on pretty much every day of the week," he said.

"The only day we get off is Friday, but all of us bowlers normally go in and do a sauna and swim before Saturday so we can feel good for the weekend.

"I was an apprentice but had to quit because I had to give up most of my time to training, so I have done a bit of labouring for a mate one or two days a week."

Reuther plays first grade division one for West Torrens and is in the SACA Pathway Academy.

He was also in SA's second XI which played the Australian Capital Territory earlier this season.

After moving from Edithburgh Primary School to Maitland Lutheran School, Reuther finished his last three years of school at Immanuel College (2019-2021).

"My older sister was already at boarding school over here so I and my twin (Lara) came over, which made it a lot easier for cricket.

"I did under 12 stuff (at West Torrens) so for the first five years playing at West Torrens we were pretty much driving over two times a week from Coobowie, which was a bit of a challenge."

Reuther played for Honiton juniors and seniors in the Lower Yorke Peninsula association, with his last game for the club being about six years ago.

While he represented SA on several occasions as a junior, Reuther said he has had to become more consistent and grow his professionalism in first grade cricket.

"The biggest thing is just being consistent as a bowler, not going searching for wickets and trying to bowl miracle balls," he said.

"You've got to wear good batters down and make them make a mistake. If you're bowling good balls for a period, it makes them do something."

Reuther has claimed 31 wickets in 15 matches this season at an average of 21.58 and generally bats at eight or nine, accruing a batting average of 16.

He said, despite his impressive figures, the flat wickets he has played on this season have not been conducive for fast bowlers.

"Because I train with all the Redbacks during the week (through the SACA Pathway Academy) you almost feel like you've got an upper hand coming from that training, to grade cricket on weekends."

Reuther credited SACA coach Ryan Harris, West Torrens coach Mark Harrity and SACA teammates Spencer Johnson and Jordan Buckingham for improvements in his bowling (recently recorded at 134km/h), which he said had become more consistent.

He said, if he was fit, he would consider playing cricket during the winter in the Northern Territory, after the West Torrens and SACA seasons finished.

Local Test cricketers at historic MCG game

Peter Argent REPORT BY

Accomplished Yorke Peninsula cricketers Lauren Ebsary (Barunga Gap) and Andrea McCauley (Maitland) attended the opening day of the inaugural pink-ball Test at the Melbourne Cricket Ground as guests of the Australian Cricketers' Association.

The day-night match, part of the multi-format women's Ashes series between Australia and England, was scheduled to be played over four days,

January 30 to February 2, but finished a day early.

Australia bowled England out for 170 in the first innings, and by stumps on day one, the home side was 1 for 54. Australia went on to score 440 before dismissing England for 148 in the second innings, securing victory by an innings and 122 runs.

This result completed a series clean sweep, giving Australia the overall Ashes win.

Ebsary and McCauley attended a function in the MCG Olympic Room, where several Australian cricketers were recognised, and the growth of women's cricket was discussed.

Cricket Australia also highlighted the journey of the Afghanistan women's team.

The match marked the first women's Test played at the MCG since the 1949 Ashes series. It was also a significant moment in the history of Australian women's Test cricket, which dates back to the 1934-35 summer.

McCauley and Ebsary remain influential figures in South Australian cricket, contributing both on and off the field.

Andrea McCauley's cricketing journey

McCauley, now a South Australian Cricket Association board member, captained SA to three national championships in the early 1990s.

She later became a coach, leading the South Australian Scorpions to a Women's National Cricket League title in 2014-15 and serving as the first coach of the Adelaide Strikers in the Women's Big Bash League.

As a player, McCauley represented Australia in one Test match against New Zealand in 1990.

She began her cricketing career at Maitland Cricket Club, playing alongside her siblings.

In recognition of her contributions, SACA annually awards the Andrea McCauley Trophy to the most outstanding South Australian women's cricketer in the WNCL.

Lauren Ebsary's career highlights

Ebsary took up cricket at 14 after being identified as a promising talent in the Snowtown area.

She played a Test match for Australia during the 2008 Ashes series in England and was part of South Australia's WNCL-winning squad in 2014-15.

Her career spanned 17 seasons at the elite level, representing both South Australia and the Western Fury. She also played 19 One Day Internationals and 14 Twenty20 matches for Australia.

SANFL underage season kicking off

Peter Argent REPORT BY

South Australian National Football League Under 18s' season kicks off with the round 1 fixtures all at the Summit Sport and Recreation Park in Mount Barker, on Saturday, March 15.

"Oval access across the metropolitan area is a critical issue for our SANFL clubs, so having the opportunity to utilise the Summit oval, particularly in the early months of the year, is a positive step forward to unlocking available green space," SANFL chief executive Darren Chandler said.

Reigning U18s premiers Woodville-West Torrens Eagles, again coached by club legend Shane Reardon, will play in the opening fixture of the day against Sturt.

Eagles' schedule follows this with a fixture against Glenelg at Richmond on Saturday, March 22, and a 2024 grand final rematch against Central District at the Ponderosa on Sunday, March 30.

Introduced in 2023, a full round of midweek evening matches will form an innovative feature of the SANFL U18 and U16 program.

The SANFL U18 and U16 seasons will conclude with a double-header grand final as curtain-raisers to the SANFL League preliminary rinal at Adelaide Oval on Sunday, September 14.

The SANFL U16s start on the weekend of March 22, with the Eagles (again coached by Darren Hams) to play Glenelg in an early evening fixture.

For the second season there is a seven-game SANFL U14 competition, starting with the Eagles playing South Adelaide the first round at Noarlunga on Sunday, March 2.

TRIUMPHANT... Driver Wayne Hill and Magic Storm cross the finish line 11 metres PHOTOS: Walter Bulyga ahead of their nearest competition.

Kadina equestrian Tyson Linke's eye for a horse has paid a big return through star mare Magic Storm.

Around the start of 2024, Linke was looking for a horse to train and spotted a mare online for sale and picked her up at a bargain price.

Magic Storm ($2.50) led throughout to take out the Kevin and Kay Seymour Mares Classic Final (1800m) in a smart mile rate of 1:57:4, at Globe Derby Park on Saturday, January 25.

It was the 7-year-old mare's 10th win from just 13 starts for Linke (her three defeats have all been seconds) and took her stakes for the stable to $37,753.

Linke said he was proud of the mare's record since her first win for the connections at Port Pirie and Kadina last March.

'We felt it was important to find the lead tonight from gate 4," Linke said.

"I told Wayne (driver Wayne Hill) to give her a solid prelim before the race and it worked as she was able to cross and lead.

"He was able to set a comfortable tempo, and she was able to outsprint her rivals over the last lap?

Magic Storm won by 11 metres from Summerdays ($18) with third Honeybun ($6), 1.5 metres away.

Linke's plan to find the front was crucial as things did not go to plan for several of his rivals. Favourite was Delightfull Tammy ($2.25) and she went back to last from gate 6 early.

Driver Lisa Ryan would have hoped to be able to come around and find the spot outside Magic Storm, but the tempo and tactics of other drivers prevented that from happening.

Instead, Ryan was forced to sit three wide with Delightful Tammy for a lap and a quarter and the mare faded to finish fifth.

Linke said Magic Storm would now be aimed for the $125,000 South Australia Pot Of Gold (2230m) to be run at Globe Derby Park later this month.

Daniel Harris: A dual career in cricket and medicine

Peter Argent REPORT BY

Throughout 2025, Peter Argent will profile sporting greats from Yorke Peninsula, beginning with cricketer Daniel Harris.

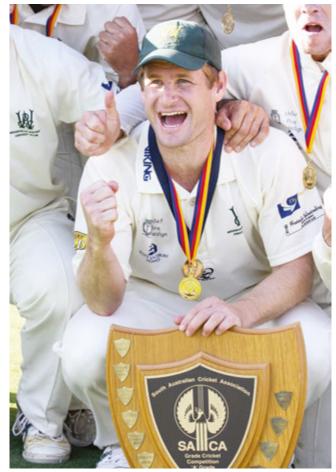

Having started his cricket at the Sunbury Cricket Club in the Lower Yorke Peninsula competition, at the ground known as "Lords," Daniel Harris is one of the most accomplished cricketers to emerge from the region, excelling both on and off the field.

As a junior, Harris represented Australia at the Under 19 level and played for South Australia in all three formats — first class. domestic one-day, and twenty20.

Standing at 175cm, Harris was a right-handed top-order batter and a right-arm medium-pace bowler.

In the later part of his career, Harris became an accomplished T20 player, signing with the Deccan Chargers in the 2012 Indian Premier League auction. He also played for the Melbourne Renegades in the Big Bash League (BBL), earning a place in the BBL Team of the Year.

Earlier in 2011-12, he played a key role in the SA Redbacks' 50-over grand final win over Tasmania at Adelaide Oval, as well as their T20 victory, alongside Nathan Lyon, Daniel Christian and captain Michael Klinger

He went on to play 58 first-class matches, including a stint as Redbacks captain, scoring five centuries with a highest score of 166 not out. In total, he made 3329 runs at an average of 43.89. Harris also played 49 List A domestic one-day (50-over) matches, scoring nine half-centuries with a top score of 79. In T20 cricket, he accumulated 1965 runs at an average of 29.77, including nine half-centuries, with a highest score of 108.

A useful medium-pace bowler, Harris had best figures of 4 for 71 in first-class cricket and 3 for 18 in T20s. He was also an outstanding fielder, excelling both close to the wicket and in the outfield.

Beyond Australia, he played T20 cricket for the Ruhuna Royals in the Sri Lankan Premier League, the Khulna Royal Bengals in the Bangladesh Premier League, and Northern Districts in New Zealand's domestic competition. At SACA first grade (A grade) level, Harris was a standout for the Woodville District Cricket Club. The 237th player to receive an A grade game for the Peckers, he made his debut as a teenager and became a key contributor to the club.

His highlights included backto-back premierships in 2007-08 and 2008-09, earning the David Hookes Medal for best player in the second grand final with 44 runs and 3 for 30. Earlier, he won the Bob Zadow Medal as the best player in the 1998-99 district grand final when Woodville claimed the 50-over title.

Harris also won the Fred Godson Medal as the leading run-scorer in 50-over SACA grade cricket in 2005-06.

Alongside his cricket career, Daniel is a qualified medical practitioner.

He graduated in medicine from the University of Adelaide and works as an emergency consultant at the Royal Adelaide and Queen Elizabeth hospitals.

SACA Men's 1st Grade Div I

West Torrens elevated itself into the top four with an emphatic win on the first day against Adelaide at Henley Grange Memorial Oval.

Winning the toss and electing to bowl, the Eagles dismissed Tea Tree Gully for 110 and were 2/190 at stumps. Coobowie's James Reuther wasn't required to spend much time at the bowling crease, bowling only three overs to finish with 0/14.

Sturt was equally dominant against the Port Adelaide Magpies at the Port Adelaide reserve.

The Magpies were bowled out for 165 in the 63rd over, with Corey Kelly (Bute connections) collecting two wickets, and finishing with 2/40 from 16 overs, including four maidens.

Playing in his first 1st Grade Div I game since injuring himself in a Sheffield Shield fixture at Adelaide Oval in late November, Corey's brother, Thomas Kelly (also Bute connections) tore the Magpies' bowling apart.

At stumps, he was 72 not out, having just faced 49 deliveries, brutally dispatching six boundaries and five sixes. At stumps Sturt, was 1/159 from 27 overs.

SACA Boys' Under 15.5

At John Mitchell Reserve in a SACA Under 15.5 round 8 game, spinner Angus Petherick, Kadina, was the destroyer — collecting the outstanding figures of 4/7 from 8.1 overs, including a pair of maidens, as West Torrens kept the Port Adelaide Magpies to a modest total of 79.

Cash Meyers (Price) opened the bowling and had the figures of 0/6 from five overs, including a couple of maidens.

At stumps, West Torrens is 2/40 in reply, with Meyers next in to bat.

SACA Boys' Under 13

The Ray Sutton Shield Under 13s competition returned on Saturday, with West Torrens taking on Port Adelaide.

The Magpies won the toss and batted first, compiling making 130.

Eagles' opening bowler Lucas Finn, Wallaroo, collected 1/15 from five overs, while vice-captain Eli Lawson, Moonta, finished with 1/18 from three overs.

West Torrens fell 10 runs short in its run chase, bowled out in the 33rd over. Lawson made a patient 18 before being dismissed.

YP at the Harry Meyer Cup

REPORT BY

This article is the last in a three-part series highlighting Yorke Peninsulaís performances during the early years of the South Australian Cricket Association Men's Senior Country Cup (Harry Meyer Cup).

The 21st century was a productive era for Yorke Peninsula cricket, with a resurgence beginning in 1998 when Ian Ravenscroft took over as coach.

After a few years of building the team, YP claimed the title in 2006, ending a 43-year drought.

Under coach I Ravenscroft and his son, captain Mark Ravenscroft, the foundation for success was laid in the early 2000s.

In 2003, Paul Paterson won the batting aggregate with 343 runs, including 178 not out against Murray District.

Simon Spry claimed the carnival fielding trophy, while Yorke Peninsula finished second to Fleurieu and District. Adam Pitt won the Arch Grosvenor wicketkeeping trophy.

In 2005, Bernie Vince impressed with 151 in his final game, but the campaign was otherwise unremarkable.

Pitt captained the team to victory in 2006, with I Ravenscroft as coach and Don Beitz as team manager.

YP defeated Upper North by 26 runs, South East by 80, and Murray District-Barrier by 150, with Ben Parish, Hadyn Cock and Ryan Darling making half-centuries.

After a six-wicket win over Eyre Peninsula, Darling scored 125 in a victory against Fleurieu and District.

YP sealed the title with a six-wicket win over Mid North.

At the presentation evening, Darling won the Cec Starr Trophy as Player of the Tournament and the batting aggregate (422 runs). Todd Price claimed the Arch Grosvenor wicketkeeping trophy, and Darling also shared the bowling award with Travis Bahr, Jeremy Edson and Matt Vandeleur.

Price dominated wicketkeeping over the next few seasons, winning three consecutive Grosvenor trophies.

Darling won another batting trophy in 2009.

The tournament shifted to a oneweek format in 2010. From 2011 to 2014, YP enjoyed a dominant period with familiar leaders at the helm.

The competition featured four teams in two pools, with a grand final between the top teams.

• 2011: Yorke Peninsula defeated South East at Adelaide University Oval. Darling starred, scoring 93 and taking 5/31.

• 2012: A seven-run win against

SENIOR COUNTRY CUP... The Yorke Peninsula side which won the 2014 BankSA Senior Country Cup. Fleurieu and Districts Gold at University Oval despite a century from Dylan Brown. Pitt top-scored with 44, while James Moss (37), Nathan Waterhouse (4/52), and Darling (3/12) contributed.

• 2013: A seven-wicket victory over Upper North at Park 10, bowling them out for 123. Ash Parsons took four wickets, and James Moss (3/14 and 45* in the final) won the Cec Starr Medal.

• 2014: A dramatic two-run win over Upper North at Woodville Oval. YP posted 139, with Matthew Goldsworthy (33) top-scoring. Upper North was 2/108 before Darling (5/28) and Moss (3/25) turned the game. Darling won his second Cec Starr Trophy and led the tournament in wickets.

YP narrowly missed a fifth straight final in 2015, losing to South East by one wicket in a thriller.

Alice Springs entered the competition in 2018.

In 2019, Yorke Peninsula won a tense final at Karen Rolton Oval, defending 166 to bowl Northern out for 163. Lachlan Pointon (53) and Nathan Allen (31) top-scored, while Ayden Smith captained the side to victory.

Captained by third-generation Sunbury cricketer Blake Gutsche, YP reached the 2021 tournament final played under lights at Tanunda Oval. Rain halted play at 4/66 in YP chase of Barossa and Light's 192, resulting in a shared Harry Meyer Cup.

In 2023, controversy arose in the grand final at Adelaide Oval #2 when Yorke Peninsula assumed it could share the trophy without being bowled out, only to find the rules had changed. Allen won the Cec Starr Trophy, and Austin Smith claimed the fielding award.

In 2024, Yorke Peninsula reached the SACA Senior Country Cup final but fell to a dominant Alice Springs.

The Harry Meyer Cup carnival, also known as the South Australian Cricket Association Men's Senior Country Cup, is celebrating its centenary from February 3 to 7.

Wallaroo and Bullants to playoff for last top four position

Wilson McShane JOURNALIST

It is always a sign of a close season when the sides to play finals are only confirmed in the last couple of matches.

In Yorke Peninsula Cricket Association A grade games at the weekend, Kadina defeated Port Broughton to secure a berth, while Wallaroo and Arthurton-Weetulta gave Paskeville-Boors Plains and Moonta, respectively, a fright, both narrowly going down.

Wallaroo and Arthurton-Weetulta play each other in this week's last minor round matches and the outcome will determine which will feature in a final against Kadina (third).

At the top of the ladder, Moonta has not lost a game, and has had contributions from Shane Moss, Blake Pedler and Andrew Maidment with the bat, as well as 45 wickets between Pedler, Richard Crosby, Marcus Kerin and Jason Henderson.

Paskeville-Boors Plains has batted deep and, through lower order partnerships, has taken care of Kadina and Wallaroo in recent weeks.

Kadina, Wallaroo and Arthurton-Weetulta are all evenly poised, and the first final is poised to be blockbuster.

Below these teams, Port Broughton has ended its season poorly, losing six of its last seven matches. Jordan Townsend, Adam Chynoweth and Tom Dolling have been good with the bat, while Tom Dolling has been prolific with the new ball. However, depth has proven problematic for Port Broughton at stages throughout the season.

Ardrossan will search for its first win against Paskeville-Boors Plains this weekend. If left arm fast bowler Harrison Stock and Nathan Wright can take early wickets, the Crabs could end their winless season on a high.

Race to LYPCA finals heats up

Wilson McShane JOURNALIST

With three matches remaining in the Lower Yorke Peninsula Cricket Association A grade's regular season, the race to finals is as close as it has been for some time.

Stansbury sits on top with 10 wins, one premiership point ahead of Minlaton, which also has 10 wins.

These teams played each other in last year's grand final, and it seems history might repeat.

Stansbury has lost only two matches this season, both of which have been at the hands of sixth-placed Maitland.

James Moss has led the charge with the bat, scoring 440 runs at an average of 88 (ranked fifth in the association for runs scored), while Samuel Harris and Zachary Bertoldi trail him on 174 and 168 runs respectively (ranked 25th and 27th) Minlaton has dropped one more game than Stansbury, losing to Warooka twice and Stansbury in their only match against each other this season Kai Newbold has been handy with the stick, averaging more than 40, while Tim Walsh, Harry Litster and Oliver Parsons have claimed 52 wickets Bar a handful of their first matches, Sunbury has sat third all year. It has not beaten a side above it all season and recently dropped games to Maitland and Eastern District.

been the star of the show, leading the runs and wickets in the association with 687 runs (98.14 average) and 36 wickets (7.69 average). His family members Dylan and Jacob have been useful with the bat and in the field, both averaging about 30 runs. Simon Schupelius has also been a reliable option with ball in hand.

Although having a similar winloss record to Sunbury, Warooka could potentially drop out of the top four.

George Bond and Nathan Allen have been its main contributors with bat and ball, both averaging more than 40 runs (ranked second and third for runs scored) and have claimed 28 wickets between them.

Jamie Ball has also been phenomenal with ball in hand taking 23 wickets (13.22 average) and is ranked second in the association. However, Warooka only plays two more matches in the regular season and will need to defeat Yorketown (fifth) or Maitland (sixth), to secure a finals posirelies heavily on whether Troy Goldsworthy can score big. So far, he has had another terrific season, averaging 56 runs (ranked fourth), but will need assistance from Ned Watters (18th for runs) and Andrew Parsons (fourth for wickets).

Yorketown is ranked above these two sides but can no longer make the top four. Nonetheless, it will worry most sides after both Matthew Barlow and Cale Elefsen made big centuries on the weekend.

Port Victoria and Corny Point have had seasons to forget in 2024-25.

Port Victoria has managed one win this season (against Corny Point), and has been competitive at stages.

Corny Point has struggled for numbers and found it difficult to Maitland is in a rich vein of form, winning four of its past five matches. With Craig Wakefield and the Kakoschke family firing, it is a dangerous prospect.

Eastern District, too, is still in the finals hunt with six wins, but it seems the fate of the side defend competitive totals. Next three games:

Yorke Valley U10 Girls win Starplex GF

Six girls represented Yorke Valley Basketball Association in the under 10s at the Starplex carnival in Gawler.

Despite the heat, they approached all five games with determination and enthusiasm.

In the first game, they faced a strong, experienced Port Pirie side with a height advantage. At halftime, they led by two points, 10-8. Their defensive pressure was strong, but they ran out of energy in the second half and lost 12-16.

The second game was against Whyalla. The team was eager to secure a win, which showed in their fight for the ball and pressure up and down the court. It was a competitive match, with no scores for either team until the final quarter. Yorke Valley managed to win 14-4.

The third game was against the North Adelaide Rockets. With momentum from their previous win, the team was determined to secure another victory. By this stage, players had bonded well, displaying strong teamwork and resilience. Their efforts paid off with a convincing 34-0 win, boosting their confidence.

This victory qualified them for the semifinal against Whyalla. Despite some nervous energy, the Yorke Valley girls worked hard and showed excellent teamwork, securing a 28-4 win and earning a place in the grand final against the undefeated Port Pirie.

Going into the final, the team was both nervous and excited to have made it this far. They impressed their supporters with their strength, pressure and defensive efforts.

REPORT BY With only a few minor round games remaining, the NYP Bowling Association 2024-25 season is reaching a crucial stage for sides contesting the various competitions' top fours.

Saturday competition

In division I, this week's draw between Moonta and Maitland has allowed Wallaroo to move to the top of the table by a narrow margin.

Arthurton and Bute currently round out the top four, with Kadina just outside. While it would be risky to count

Kadina out, its loss to Port Hughes has made its task more challenging. In division II Sandercock, Moonta comfortably leads the competition, followed by Wallaroo, with Wallaroo Mines and Kadina completing the top four.

Port Broughton remains the only side with a chance to challenge for a spot.

In division II Brown, this week's matches were highly competitive.

Alford and Wallaroo are battling for top spot, while Bute and Paskeville round out the four. It seems likely these sides will hold their positions.

In division III, two of the three Moonta sides currently occupy the top spots, with Wallaroo and Port Broughton also in the mix. This could well be the finishing order, as Moonta White faces an uphill battle to make up ground.

Off to the big smoke

"Unbiased" REPORT BY

It's a hot Sunday morning, February 2, there's a haze from interstate bushfires and the SYP Bowling Association players are packing and leaving in droves for the Bowls SA Men's Country Carnival; good luck to all SYP teams playing this week.

Due to those commitments and the Round Robin competition the following week, the Wednesday triples grand finals will be played at Minlaton on February 19.

Wednesday competition

Men's Triples 29/01/2025 The section A preliminary final was an all-Yorketown affair, Red versus

Blue While Massimo Castiglia and Darrin Thom's teams had a close battle, it was Red's rink which prevailed by just four shots. Next door, Ken Rickard had a slow start against Mick McCallion and his team.

A late charge in the last few ends made for an exciting final end when a result going Red's way gave it the overall win by just three shots, along with a place in the grand final against Stansbury. In section B, Edithburgh Gold staked a claim for a grand final berth with a significant win by Rick Knight and his team over Bill Hicks's rink. A close game on the other rink resulted in an Ardrossan Blue victory by Jim Burgess over Geoffrey Arnold, but not enough to secure the overall win.

Grand final for section B will be between the Golds - Port Vincent and Edithburgh.

Preliminary finals results 29-1-25 Section A: Yorketown Red 45 d Yorketown Blue 42. M Castiglia 25 d D Thom 21, K Rickard 20 lost to M McCallion 21.

Section B: Edithburgh Gold 50 d Ardrossan Blue 33. G Arnold 20 lost to J Burgess 26, R Knight 30 d B Hicks 7.

Thursday competition

After a close game between Yorketown and Stansbury, Yorketown's win helped it a slide into second spot on the division I premiership ladder.

Leader Port Vincent's decisive three-rink win over Edithburgh gives it an nine-point breather on the ladder.

Curramulka also enjoyed a three rink win over Warooka, but the thriller was between finals hopefuls Port Victoria and Minlaton; Port Vic needed the win to keep that fourth position and did so by a two-rink, one-shot overall victory.

In division II, wins by Port Vincent and Stansbury keep them at the top of the ladder.

Edithburgh Green and Minlaton had a 14-shots-all draw.

Results 30-1-25 DIVISION I

B Sando 28 d W Koennecke 13. Edithburgh Green 14 (2) drew with Minlaton 14 (2). L Stevens 14 drew with S Glanville 14.

Saturday competition

While it is mathematically possible, it is highly unlikely that any side will topple the Stansbury juggernaut in the final four rounds of the Saturday division I competition.

The Minlaton young guns claimed one rink, but Stansbury enjoyed a 26shot victory.

Yorketown mirrored those results against Warooka and Edithburgh moved into third position with a decisive win over Curramulka.

Port Victoria prevailed against the Mariners by just five shots.

Both Stansbury's division IIA sides travelled to Yorketown and both prevailed.

Port Vincent Black played at home and defeated Edithburgh Gold.

Curramulka and Minlaton continue to maintain their places at the top of the division IIB ladder with wins over Port Vincent Gold and Warooka, respectively.

Ardrossan Thursday: Results 30-1-25 — Ardrossan division I played at Maitland in blustery weather. In an extremely close game, Ardrossan won 84 (14) to Maitland 83 (4). Penny McCarthy (sk), Rosie Stern, Ann-Marie Slattery and Annette Rowntree had no trouble against their opponents winning 32-17. Sally Young (sk), Jennifer Ey, Meg Brown and Jackie Errington collected multiple shots throughout their game to finish 23-18, even though they only won nine of the 20 ends. Charmaine Simmons (sk), Cheryl Rudiger, Carol Bulpitt and Kerrie Aldridge struggled all day. Dropping a five on the 10th end proved the difference at the completion of their game, 14-19. The final team was level at the 12th end but fell short, dropping multiple shots in the second half of their game. Scores 15-29. Overall, a win for the Ardrossan side - just! Division II played at home against Wallaroo Mines and had a convincing win 63-47 with the three teams up. Denise Anderson (sk), Brione Medcalf, Kath Lea and David Hooks trailed after the 15th. Scoring on the next five ends, they took the win 23-16. Chrissy Voysey (sk), Helen Burdett, Aaron Burgess and Adrian Etchels proved too strong for their opponents, winning 22-16. Margie Tonkin, Belinda Meredith, Dawn Woolford and Mark Quinn had quite a tussle until the 15th end, but fortunately increased their lead to finish 18-15. Overall, it was a great result for both of our sides this week. CS

Ardrossan Wednesday: Results 29-1-25 — Ardrossan Blue played the preliminary final against Edithburgh Gold, going down 33-50. After chasing down its opponent from a slow start, better rink A Burgess, J Simmons and J Burgess (sk) fell behind. With a herculean effort, the team transformed the game through sustained large scores to sweep to the front for a 26-20 finish. B Hicks's team was comprehensively outclassed by its powerful, precise opponent to lose 7-30. Again, it has been a joy for our club to participate in the SYPBA Wednesday competition. LBB

Ardrossan Saturday: Results 1-2-25 — Division I defeated Paskeville 88-82. It was about mid-game when best rink C Vargas, R Stern, B Westley and Ben Rowntree (sk) burst ahead of its opponent to clinch a 25-14 victory. After a slow start, J Simmons's team took control to launch to the lead, which it ably defended for a slender 22-20 success. P McCarthy's rink experienced a game of mixed fortunes with some high scores from both teams, and just missing out 24-25. A couple of winning ends from P Cook's team saw it briefly slip to the lead before succumbing 17-23. Division II lost to Paskeville 76-104. Surrendering a significant lead, best rink M Tonkin, C Voysey, M Quinn and L Burman (sk) chased down its opponent to set up a significant lead, which was needed to balance a strong comeback, just winning after a tied end, 24-23. G Cook's team also recovered from a tardy start to overtake its opponent then, unfortunately, suffered from large scores against finishing with a run for an 18-19 near miss. S Young's team had a tremendous tussle and, although continually challenging its opponent, fell short 20-25. Large scores by its opponent devastated the score line for C Rudiger's team that went also travelled, heading to Maitland and went down 46-79. Fours Michael Van Der Weegen, Don Craker, Guy Close and Ken Godfrey (sk) 14- 32. Triples Russell Williams, Geoff Male and Gary Martin (sk) 15-22. Pairs Shane Grimes and Allan Gribble 17 -25. Quiet trip home, but keep it going, well done. "Toppy"

Maitland Thursday: Results 30-1-25 - Maitland played at home to Ardrossan in tricky wind. Having two teams up, Maitland went down by one shot overall. B Downs, M Wearing, J Spaans and M Saunders had a close game for the first 13 ends, 8-8 on the 10th, 12-10 up on the 13th. Maitland then won four of the last seven ends and finished 29-15, earning them the club biros. M Burrows, B Brown, T Harding and G Jarrett also had a close match, 12-10 up on the 13th and then moved to an 18-12 lead by the 18th. Final scores Maitland 19 Ardrossan 14. J Davies, J Hollams, S Honner and C Kelly allowed Ardrossan a 19-9 lead by the 13th but finished down only 18-23. J Prosser, M Wuttke, J Harper and J Kelly did not have a good day, but managed a five on the first end, losing 32-17. Overall scores Ardrossan 84, Maitland 93. "Kitty/Jack?"

Maitland Saturday: Results 1-2-25 — Division I hosted Moonta, agreeing to a 9am start. T Poole, C Gloyn, P Hallett and M Falco were level for the first six ends. Maitland had four good ends, up 20-6 on the 13th. Maitland continued the good play, allowing Moonta to only win five of the last 12 ends. Final scores 31-15, winning them the club biros. L Harper, who was skipper for the first time, T Wuttke, B Dyett and D Volke also had a close match 6-9 on the eighth. A great score on the ninth gave them a 13-9 lead. Maitland continued to play well and up 25-14 by the 19th, allowing them a good win 31-21. G Treloar, T Rankine, 1 Prosser and K Cross got off to a good start 8-0 on the third, but Moonta settled and led from then until the 20th end, when Maitland was up 19-18. The lead changed each end from then on, but the game ended on a draw 23-23. R James's team found the opposition too strong, going down 12-38. Well done Maitland. Overall scores Maitland 97 (10) to Moonta 97 (8). The division II Brown match was not played early, so we travelled to Bute to play at 1.30pm. However, the match did not reach a result because the temperature got to 38 degrees. Three teams were up at that stage, but the side was down overall. Two heat-related incidents occurred just before the game was cancelled. Thanks to the Bute players for their assistance to the player involved. Only one other match was completed in div II and this was at Paskeville, so no one gets full points."Kitty/ Iack?"

Moonta Thursday: Results 30-1-25 — Division I Red lost to Wallaroo 56 (2) to 76 (16). Best rink: sk M Chandler, C Herrmann, H Andrew, J Wilson. Div I Blue defeated Bute 88 (14) to 69 (4). Wallaroo Thursday: Results 30-1-25 — With both sides playing at home and against the top sides, a determined vibe was in the air from the start. Division I played Moonta Red. Scores on the rinks of Di Milner, Ann Robinson and Julie Symons swapped over on many occasions. Milner and Symons ended up with draws, 14-14 and 18-18 respectively, and Robinson managed to get over the line 18-15. Jo Smith's team steadily climbed to a great win 26-9. Final scores: Wallaroo 76 (16), Moonta Red 56 (2). Division II played Paskeville with a similar story. Jenny Carter's team all played well and, with the skippers having a tit-for-tat tussle, made it a great game. Carter managed to come out on top 20-18. Jill Sobey's team had a good lead up until the last few ends when Paskeville fired up. Sobey managed to keep in front 20-18. Di Poole's team celebrated a seven on one end, which added to impressive final scores of 28-6. Wallaroo 68 (14), Paskeville 42. Ann

Wallaroo Saturday: Results 1-2-25 - Division I hosted Port Broughton and two teams won well, but the other two rinks had battles all day. Final scores were 110-65. Richard Kent, Kevin Cock, Greg and Will McPharlin (sk) had a good win 35-14. Steve Yandell, Bob Brandt, Diane Milner and Phil Spiers (sk) also had a good day 28-9. The team of Darrell Carter, Graham Harper, Brian Smith, Fred Schenck (sk) was well up halfway through, but Jeff Barnes and team fought back to get in front. The home team eventually lifted and got up 26-21, well done. The last team of Neville "Nifty" Hards, Craig Oborn, Peter Rankin and Mal Johns (sk) was well down and fought back to get in front, then dropped a few, but two shots on the last end gave them a draw - a fitting finale to both teams on that rink, top job! Division II Sandercock travelled to Port Broughton in the heat; only getting 18 ends done, the side came home with an eightshot win, 62-54. Port Vincent Sailing Club

Race 5 of the Club Championship Series Cup was sailed in hot, smoky conditions on Sunday afternoon, February 2.

Winds were light at the start of racing but had picked up and were at times gusty by the end.

Close in shore was calm and the skipper of one of the Mosquito fleets needed plenty of patience as he made his slow way onto the beach.

The top deck officials and crew took advantage of the air conditioning in the clubhouse as they followed the fleet around the bay; they were joined by skippers and crews once boats were unrigged.

Trailer Sailers: 1st Travis: Stormbird, В 2nd Amante, A Slater; 3rd Cripple Creek Ferry, R Cook; 4th Vostok, K Campion; 5th Chameleon, A Rushbrook.

Multihulls: 1st Splashes Brilliance, D LeFeuvre; 2nd Both Barrels, M Young; 3rd Epimagic, T Polkinghorne.

PORT VINCENT SAILING... Line honours for Danny LeFeuvre on Splashes Brilliance.

WALLAROO SAILING... The fleet at the start line ready to go.

Wallaroo Sailing Club The lack of wind meant that sail training took place on the Wallaroo Sailing Club deck and boat shed, and not on the water, on Sunday morning, February 2. The wind began to build so afternoon racing went ahead.

The fleet was diverse, with Tasars, Lasers, a Pacer and a Spider out on the water. An 11-knot wind provided perfect conditions for a good afternoon of sailing.

Editor's note: Wallaroo Sailing Club commodore is Ian Willmott, not Margaret Pope as reported in last week's YP Country Times; apologies to both.

Rental pressure starting to ease

SOUTH Australia's rental market appears to be easing as rent growth slows and availability improves.

According to the REA Group Rental Report December 2024 released last week, conditions began to improve for renters during the past year.

The report found that, although the rental market remained competitive in 2024, it signalled a departure from the rapid rent growth and limited availability that has defined recent years.

"Over 2024, we saw rental price growth slow and the availability of properties improve, indicating that conditions are gradually beginning to ease for renters," REA Group executive manager, economics Angus Moore said.

"While rent prices recorded annual growth of 6.9 per cent (nationally) in December 2024, outstripping that of inflation or wage growth, we did see the pace of rental price growth slow to less than half of that of 2023, marking the slowest annual increase since late 2021.

"Despite some easing of rental pressures, the market remains far tighter than pre-pandemic levels, and availability is still strained. Rents are expected to keep rising in 2025, though at a more moderate pace."

Key findings from the report: • Regional SA had the one of the greatest increases in new listings with a 37.2 per cent rise; that helped drive an improvement in availability with regional renters, with the 9.4 per cent increase in total listings in December relative to a year prior.

• With growth in supply, rental demand eased in regional SA over the year to December, as the median time a rental spent advertised on realestate.com.au was up two days from December 2023 and average enquiries per listing were down 10.2 per cent from the year prior.

• Adelaide renters had greater choice in 2024 compared to 2023, as new rental listings increased by 13.2 per cent and total rental listings by 22.1 per cent over the year to December 2024. This marked the second largest annual improvement in total listings around the country.

•With improved availability, conditions became a bit less competitive for Adelaide renters. Demand for rental properties eased in December, with Adelaide recording one of the biggest drops (32.4 per cent) among the capitals for average enquiries per listing.

• Compared to December 2023, Adelaide rental properties spent an extra two days advertised on realestate.com.au at 18 days in December 2024.

• Median rent in Adelaide increased 7.4 per cent year-onyear in December to $580, which marked an easing in growth compared to the year before (12.5 per cent). Median rents in Adelaide now exceed those of Melbourne ($570).

Regional home sales break records — again

THE median property sale price for the South Australian regional property market has risen to $454,000, according to the Real Estate Institute of SA.

Following the release of the Valuer-General's price data for the December 2024 quarter, REISA chief executive Andrea Heading said the median price had increased by 5.58 per cent from the previous quarter and 14.94 per cent from the same quarter last year.

"This is an amazing result for the SA regional real estate market and a testament to the fact that purchasers are entering the market and buying premium properties across the board," Ms Heading said.

While these results are positive for vendors, Ms Heading acknowledged concerns for purchasers in regional SA.

"A real estate market should be reasonably accessible to all, and while we, as the peak organisation for real estate in SA, celebrate its continued success, we must also be mindful of those left behind," she said.

"We call on the state government to continue its strategy of increasing housing supply while also committing to a thorough review of inefficient taxes such as stamp duty and land tax, and the provision of incentives that could be more readily accessible for first home buyers."

Ms Heading said that, despite the ongoing low supply of housing stock and high interest rates, SA's regional real estate market remained strong.

"However, as the economic outlook improves in 2025 and the government progresses with its housing initiatives, we hope to see increased affordability in the real estate market," she said.

Wheat project targets South East Asia

AUSTRALIAN Export Grains Innovation Centre is documenting South East Asian wheat quality needs.

The project, supported by Grains Australia, aims to keep Australian wheat competitive. This work aims to understand the needs of Australia's most valuable export region. Australian Bureau of Statistics figures show South East Asia was worth about $35 billion between 2014 and 2024. The project runs until 2026, building on existing AEGIC intelligence and will use a rigorous choice analysis model.

An AEGIC spokesperson said these insights would inform Australian wheat classification, breeding and production.

In November and December, AEGIC visited customers in Vietnam, Indonesia, the Philippines, Thailand and Malaysia.

"The reception from customers across the region was very positive and we have received a high level of engagement already, with many customers agreeing to contribute their insights on the performance of Australian wheat in these products," they said.

Supported by GRDC investment, AEGIC developed South East Asian wheat quality data between 2015 and 2019, when the AEGIC market experts conducted choice analysis with flour millers and processors.

This gave the Australian industry guidance on customer preferences.

"South East Asia is a dynamic and developing region, and its people and markets are ever evolving," the spokesperson said.

"This data now needs to NOODLING... Lifeline for threatened animals

CURIOUS CUISINE... Precious native species such as the yellowspotted goanna are on the menu for feral cats and foxes. PHOTO: Gillian Basnett

AS AUSTRALIA'S most vulnerable species face an uncertain future, effective 1080 baiting remains essential in controlling one of their greatest threats — feral cats and foxes.

According to National Feral Cat and Fox Management coordinator Gillian Basnett, these introduced predators have already driven 32 native fluoroacetate occurs naturally in some plants.

As a result, only tiny amounts of the toxin are needed for effective baiting. Strict regulations ensure baits are not 100 per cent toxin and are prepared only by authorised operators, with each bait containing the minimum effective dose.

numbats, bandicoots, woylies, bilbies, quolls and rock-wallabies

Centre for Invasive Species Solutions chief executive Shauna Chadlowe supports 1080 use, emphasising that there are no practical alternatives for largescale predator control.

While emerging technologies such as gene drive show promise, they are still in development, Ms Chadlowe said. Risk assessments should always be undertaken before baiting, with ongoing monitoring to ensure effectiveness and minimise unintended consequences.

species to extinction and are pushing more than 200 others towards the same fate.

Ms Basnett, in partnership with the Centre for Invasive Species Solutions, is raising concerns over misinformation about sodium fluoroacetate (1080), which remains a crucial tool in conservation.

She describes 1080 baiting as the "thin green line" protecting native species from extinction.

The science is clear: native animals have a higher tolerance to 1080 than introduced predators, particularly those in Western Australia, where

A fox bait contains 3mg of 1080, while a feral cat bait contains 4.5mg.

Research shows a wedgetailed eagle in eastern Australia would need to ingest at least 10 fox baits to receive a lethal dose, while goannas would need more than 70.

Bacteria and fungi in soil and water rapidly break down 1080, ensuring environmental safety.

For some critically endangered species, even one or two feral cats or foxes could cause local extinction.

Native mammals benefiting from 1080 baiting include

Without effective predator control, more unique Australian wildlife will be lost, Ms Chadlowe said.

IT TAKES a lot for me to have hope in newrelease romantic comedies.

I often find them lacking the heart and sincerity of past decades, but I put my trust in Florence Pugh and Andrew Garfield, the leads of 2024 movie We Live In Time (rated M)

The protagonists, chef Almut (Pugh) and Weetabix marketer Tobias (Garfield), are pleasantly unconventional amid today's airbrushed romcoms and they certainly had acting power behind them and a lot of potential

(I must also say I appreciate that neither of the pair was a journalist, as the frequency of trope may have seduced me into a career that's not as simple as it looks on screen.)

However, without strong writing and editing decisions to support their performances, the film left a lot to be desired

By using a non-linear structure, We Live In Time attempted to reinvent the age-old tale of what to do when you know death is knocking on your door.

I found the constant flashbacks and flashforwards confusing and they interfered with me connecting with the characters and staying engaged with the film.

The times I found myself absorbed were during scenes where I could sit with the characters in one moment for more than a few minutes, such as when Almut gives birth to her daughter.

February 4, 1789: George Washington was elected as the first president of the United States.

February 4, 1997: OJ Simpson was found liable in the deaths of Ron Goldman and Nicole Brown Simpson in a civil court action.

Or when there is some comedy infused, like when a chocolate-covered orange (I will never understand why Brits enjoy this flavour combination) results in a car accident.

We Live In Time also pulls together for a poignant ending, picking up on previous threads throughout the story.

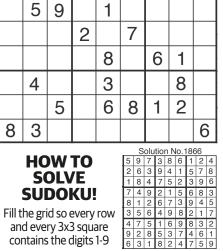

This intentionality will always have my respect and may have caused a few tears to fall.

However, I didn't cry as much as I thought I would.

Maybe if I was a mother or had lost mine, We Live In Time would've affected me more. But I feel it didn't deliver in as memorable a way as other sad romcoms with a similar message.

Yorke Peninsula Football League launches pathway program

Wilson McShane JOURNALIST

More than 100 players and parents attended Yorke Peninsula Football League's first development squad session at Maitland on Sunday, February 2.

While the session was originally intended to be a training, warm weather moved the under 15s and 17s squads inside to the clubrooms.

The gathering was headlined by Bute's Kade Herbert, who plays league footy in Adelaide. "Kade did a great job," YPFL junior president Stephen Papps said. "He spoke really well because he's just been through it all (AFL draft combine and elite system), and it was really interesting.

"I think it also helped that Kade is only 19. He played under 16 state and under 18 state footy, and was an outstanding junior up here."

Papps said, along with Herbert, YPFL president Bradley Haylock, under 15s association coach Murray Gardiner and under 13s association coach Ricky Mackereth all spoke.

to prepare local juniors (under 17, under 15, under 14 and under 13 age groups) for association matches and higher-level football.

He said, while the players initially sat with teammates from their own clubs, it was pleasing to watch them mingle towards the end of the session.

For many of the younger par-The program is a YPFL initiative ticipants, it was their first taste of association footy.

Papps thanked Central Yorke Cougars president David Linke for accommodating the session.

The first official trainings for the two squads are on February 23 (U15) and March 9 (U17), respectively.

The sessions will run fortnightly for about three months until their respective association matches.
